

Accurate, timely, helpful feedback

- I. Use technology for instant feedback
- II. Make criteria explicit for assessment
- III. Recognize many types of achievement
- IV. Look for progress and maturity
- V. Attend to variations in styles, intelligences
- VI. Hold goal setting sessions and review goals periodically
- VII. Maintain portfolios and work samples
- VIII. Use personal learning plans
- IX. Evaluate in context of learning situation
- X. Have students report progress to parents

- XI. Involve parents in assessment
- XII. Teach students to self-assess their work
- XIII. Have students compare their goals with performance
- XIV. Promote reality for assessments
- XV. Use real audiences to judge performance on products and services
- XVI. Reflect on what went well, could be improved